SECTION 1 – GENERAL INFORMATION

1.1 INTRODUCTION

A few things about the ministry of Church Warden.

- Firstly, yours is a Territory of the People wide ministry as well as a parish ministry. You share directly in the leadership of your parish community, along with your Incumbent/Ministry Developer priest/ministry developer, and the Bishop.
- Secondly, yours is a team ministry in the sense that you function together. The traditional designation of “Rector’s” and “People’s” refers to the fact that one Church Warden is appointed by the Incumbent/Ministry Developer/Ministry Developer, and the other elected by the congregation. In many parishes within the Territory, the wardens are both elected by the parish. Only together can you carry out your shared ministry of support and oversight along with the Bishop, Incumbent/Ministry Developer and/or Ministry Developer. The Incumbent/Ministry Developer and two church wardens of the parish form the parish corporation and are the ones who sign all documents on behalf of the parish.
- Thirdly, you are encouraged to pray for, to seek, and to expect God’s grace for your ministry of leadership with God’s people. You are to share in the helping to create and sustain a community in which people will encounter and be uplifted by, the Risen Christ.
- Finally, the Bishop’s role is to support you as you exercise local leadership in the Body of Christ. It is important you feel you can contact the Bishop with any questions of concerns as you may have from time to time. This direct relationship between wardens and Bishop is particularly important in parish life, especially when your parish is going through a time of transition.
- The wardens, either elected by the congregation and work as a team, or one elected by the people and the other appointed by the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, have been called by God along with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, or if there be no Incumbent/Ministry Developer, or Priest-in-Charge with the Bishop, to be responsible for the mission, worship and life of the local congregation. The tools required for doing this job will include, besides this handbook, faith in God, a good sense of humor, the policies of the Anglican Parishes of the Central Interior.

Your parish and the wider community of the Territory of the People, are grateful you accepted this special ministry of leadership to which you have been called. Your call to give leadership, along with your Bishop, Incumbent/Ministry Developer or Ministry Developer, is to be responsible for the mission, worship and life of the local congregation. The tools required for doing this job will include, besides this handbook, and the policies of the Territory of the People, faith in God, and a good sense of humour.

This handbook is based on the policy book of the Territory of the People and is intended as a source of information and a guide for wardens and church committees as they perform the ministry of administration to which they have been called.

1.2 DESCRIPTION OF THE TERRITORY OF THE PEOPLE [Anglican Parishes Of The Central Interior]

“The Anglican Parishes of the Central Interior walk together with all God’s people, journeying into a new creation, and trusting with faith and courage in the guidance of the Holy Spirit. We love as Jesus loves, living with integrity and openness, and are committed stewards of God’s world.”

Mission Statement adopted May 2011

Three affirmations on which our life is grounded: (adopted 2001)

1. We affirm that the Anglican Parishes of the Central Interior needs to gather together as a family of God
2. We affirm that this time of transition has been given to us as a gift to explore possible new directions towards which the Spirit is calling us.
3. We affirm that God is calling us to share in Jesus’ ministry of healing and reconciliation.

The Territory of the People (formerly the Anglican Parishes of the Central Interior) is comprised of the area of the Central Interior of British Columbia. It has an area of approximately 65,000 square miles and there are 17 Parishes and 4 Ecumenical Shared Ministries (33 Congregations).

The basic structural unit of the Anglican Church is the Diocese. The Diocese is apportioned into Parishes. A Parish may consist of one or more congregations. The Territory of the People covers the area of the former Diocese of Cariboo, and functions similar to any other Diocese within the Anglican Church.

Parishes are grouped together as a Region, under the leadership of a Regional Dean, both for facility in administration and in order that they may work together in solving problems of mutual interest.

The governance of the Territory was determined by the Assembly in 2001 and is unique in its structure within the Canadian Church. The Assembly consists of the Bishop and Clergy of the diocese, two lay members and two youth, elected by the parishes at their annual vestry meetings and ex-officio members. Fifteen First Nations delegates selected by the Bishop and the Territory Indigenous Council also are giving voice and vote. The Bishop chairs the Assembly.

Assembly meets every two years for the purpose of considering the reports of committees charged with particular responsibilities, electing new committees, enacting or amending legislation, and taking what steps may be deemed advisable for strengthening the work of the Church in the APCI.

In addition to the Assembly there are the Provincial and General Synods.

1.3 PROVINCIAL AND GENERAL SYNODS

The Provincial Synod of the Ecclesiastical Province of British Columbia and the Yukon consists of all the dioceses in this Province. The Chairperson is the Archbishop who is known as the Metropolitan. Membership consists of representatives from each diocese in the Ecclesiastical Province elected by the various Synods, together with the respective Bishops and Chancellors. Provincial Synod meets every three years at the call of the Metropolitan and considers matters of interest in the provincial sphere.

The General Synod is the governing body of the Canadian Church. It consists of all the Bishops together with clergy and laity elected by each diocese. The Chairperson is the Primate and meetings are held every three years. In the years that General Synod does not meet, meetings are held of a smaller body elected by General Synod known as the National Executive Council.

SECTION 2 – WARDENS

2.1 DUTIES OF WARDENS: Territory Policy 3.6 [see Addendum]

2.2 INTERPRETATION OF WARDEN'S DUTIES

2.2.1: To give leadership in Christian lifestyle. Both wardens are to be frequent participants in the public worship of the congregation. They need to be visible as they exercise their ministry in the congregation and, it is hoped, have at least one ministry they are exercising in the community beyond the church, e.g. Big Brothers, Red Cross, food bank, drop in centre, etc. Wardens can be an example to others in their baptismal ministry by keeping a healthy balance between occupation, family, church activity and community service.

2.2.2: To strengthen the life of the church through the growth and development of its people in numbers, spiritual depth and in service to the community. This can best be done by being certain that the Incumbent/Ministry Developer and church committee are involved in a planning process so spiritual growth, Christian education and community needs can be kept before the people.

They need not do the planning but with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, be certain the parish develops a plan, a sense of direction, goals and objectives.

2.2.3: To seek and identify ways church members can serve the world. It would seem this means that wardens have the job of discovering and keeping the needs of the local village, town, neighbourhood, before the congregation as well as assisting parish members to know what gifts they have to offer in service to the community, and encouraging them to match their gifts with community needs. Again, the wardens, with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, can assign these tasks to others.

2.2.4: To support and advise the Incumbent/Ministry Developer/Ministry Developer. Support does not mean being a “yes” person. Support means honest dialogue in response to ideas, approaches, methods - both positive and negative. If the Incumbent/Ministry Developer and one warden wish to go in a particular direction and the second warden in conscience does not, there are two choices:

- a) state your thoughts and feelings clearly so the other two understand your position and you know you have been heard and then accept the decision of the majority and work hard to support these plans.
- b) state your thoughts and feelings clearly so the other two understand and offer your resignation.

2.2.5: To have custody of the church funds, to appoint a treasurer, to give an accounting to the church committee.

The wardens, not the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, have oversight of the finances of the parish. No doubt you will do this in consultation with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, if there be one, and the church committee. You choose a treasurer, the church committee and Incumbent/Ministry Developer should ratify the choice. In larger parishes an envelope secretary is a good idea perhaps elected at the annual meeting or by the church committee. The wardens are to be certain that financial information is provided to the Incumbent/Ministry Developer and Church committee at least quarterly. Monthly is even better and a must in large congregations.

The wardens are responsible for the preparation of a budget at least annually and for the financial statements in preparation for the annual meeting. They are responsible for an annual Financial Review which must be completed by a person with financial know how who is outside the power core of the congregation. If you don't have access to someone, call the Financial Officer for assistance.

Even in a small congregation the Sunday collection should always be counted by two people and deposited immediately in the bank or night deposit. The collection should not be taken home. If the counting takes place at a time other than after church, the collection should be placed in a night deposit and retrieved by the counters the next day.

These practices prevent the possibility of scandal thus protecting your reputation and the possibility of being hurt as a result of a break-in or robbery with violence.

2.2.6: To oversee insurance for the church and other property of the congregation. In order for replacement values on church buildings and contents it is important that insurance values be kept within 10% of replacement value. To allow insurance values to slip will penalize other parishes in the diocese as well as yourselves as premiums will increase for all and you will receive only the value of your insurance not replacement value if there is a loss.

Keeping up insurance values annually is a matter of good stewardship. Large parishes should probably have a professional evaluation completed for insurance purposes every three to five years.

Smaller parishes must send the dimensions of their buildings to the Financial Officer to enable a formula to be applied.

It is helpful to have a list of all the contents of the church and hall as well as photographs of special items, kept in a safety deposit box at the bank.

2.2.7: To produce, or oversee, the production of annual financial statements.

To arrange for the appointment of a person to do the annual financial review.

To oversee the production of a budget.

To oversee the completion of year-end reports to APCI.

Much of this was covered in 2.1.5: above. The person reviewing the finances should be appointed by the church committee. The treasurer should not be responsible for creating a budget. The wardens should oversee a process which allows the congregation to have input into budget items. The treasurer can assist by giving information about fixed costs. A budget should reflect in dollars how the parish is moving toward the achievement of its goals and objectives in a given year or period of years. It should reflect the price tag for the parish doing its mission for the year(s) ahead. As many as possible should be involved in the process. The budget belongs to the congregation and must ultimately, at the annual meeting, be approved by them.

All parish members should be encouraged through their time, talent and money to support the vision of the parish expressed in the budget.

- 2.2.8: To give oversight to all aspects of the personnel management. The wardens are to oversee the salary, benefits and evaluations of all employees or contractors. Any contracts, evaluations and conflicts are to be handled by the wardens, together with the Bishop, Incumbent or Ministry Developer, in a confidential manner. The wardens are to report any changes in contracts or employee relationships to the church committee.

To review with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer and other clergy, housing and travel allowance annually, stipend and benefits within the Territory stipend system for the church committee's approval (perhaps via the finance committee in a large parish). This means learning something about the stipend system and how it works. Help is available from the Territory office if you have questions, and much of this information is included in the Treasurer's Handbook.

- 2.2.9: To execute contracts and other documents with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer. Significant contracts and documents should always be discussed with and approved by the church committee. Remember that all property and buildings are registered in the name of Fraser Basin Property Society. New permanent structures on church property or additions to any existing structure must be approved by the Bishop and the Territory Administration Committee.

It is a requirement to submit building and payment plans before the work is begun. Any capital or large maintenance project must have the approval of the Territory Administration Committee as set out in the Policy Manual.

- 2.2.10: Communication between the congregation and the Territory. This can be accomplished in various ways; by sending copies of the parish newsletter to the Bishop, by reporting activities to regional councils and in turn reporting back to the parish by asking regional council representatives, Assembly delegates, the regional representative to the executive committee, to report to your church committee.

- 2.2.11: To be knowledgeable of Territory policy re: clergy stipends, benefits, maternity and sick leave, honorarium and travel for relief ministers.

These policies are all found in the Territory policy manual, every parish office has at least one copy, and all the policies are kept current on the Territory website, under Resources – Policy Manual. Policy manual holders are sent new policies and/or policy revisions twice a year following approval at the Territory Coordinating Council meetings. If you suffer from insomnia the policy manual makes great reading and is much cheaper than sherry or scotch!

- 2.2.12: To be familiar with the relationships between the Territory, region, parish, Assembly, general synod, and provincial synod. If you don't know, how can you teach others? Ask your Incumbent/Ministry Developer, ask the Territory office, if you have any questions.

- 2.2.13: In consultation with the Bishop, to be responsible for the parish when there is no Incumbent/Ministry Developer. The Incumbent/Ministry Developer is the Bishop's appointee in the parish. When you have one you work in consultation with him or her as a team and together with the church committee, as a team.

When there is no Incumbent/Ministry Developer, unless someone else is appointed, as warden you are directly responsible for the life of the parish. Bishop and wardens become the team. This fact alone says something about the importance of God's call to be a warden.

SECTION 3 – CHURCH COMMITTEE

3.1 DUTIES OF CHURCH COMMITTEE: Territory Policy 3.8 [see addendum]

3.2 INTERPRETATION OF THE CHURCH COMMITTEE DUTIES

3.2.1: To act on behalf of the congregation between annual meetings.

It is sometimes said the job of the church committee is to run the parish. It is better to define the church committee's work as "to serve the congregation". The annual congregational meeting approves the budget which defines the congregation's priorities for the coming year. It is the work of the church committee in part to carry out, bring into being, the goals and objectives approved by the congregation and in that way act on behalf of the congregation between meetings.

Should circumstances change, the church committee can also make decisions on behalf of the congregation as it seeks to carry out its goals and objectives. The church committee along with the wardens and Incumbent /

- Ministry Developer needs also to be certain that the congregation has the opportunity to talk about and discuss the direction, purpose, statement, goals and objectives of the parish as it seeks to carry out its mission to the world.
- 3.2.2: At all times to support and assist the Incumbent/Ministry Developer and wardens in the execution of their duties. The vision is again the committee working together with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer and wardens as a team responsible for the mission of the parish. The wardens, in consultation with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, are to teach and encourage this.
- 3.2.3: To clarify the long and short term goals and objectives of the congregation and to develop a program to achieve them. This is the biggest work of the church committee; developing program so the parish can move in the direction decided and achieve the goals and objectives agreed upon. Wardens can encourage and support this by making sure it happens.
- 3.2.4: To interpret the goals, objectives and program of the congregation to its people and to encourage them to support the same. This is both an exercise in example as well as in communication. It means all know what is happening, why, and how they can be a part of it.
- 3.2.5: With the wardens to ensure all the necessary furnishings and equipment are available and in good condition for the proper carrying on of worship and other functions of the congregation. Here the church committee, in conjunction with the wardens, has the task of making sure the facilities and tools are available for the congregation to carry out its program.
- 3.2.6: To appoint and set the terms of employment of all lay persons employed by the congregation whether full-time, part-time, honorary or paid. Here the church committee takes responsibility for the human resources to carry out the parish program. This means creating position descriptions, job parameters, pay scales, in order for people to have a clear understanding of what they have been called to do, whether paid or unpaid, and can be held accountable for what they do. This will enable the mission of the congregation to move ahead. It is the responsibility of the wardens to deal with personnel issues in a confidential manner, and to report in general terms to church committee the results of these issues.
- 3.2.7: To maintain an inventory of all the property of the congregation.
The church committee is called to keep track of the facilities and tools required for the congregation to carry on its mission.
- 3.2.8: To establish such sub committees as the church committee may decide. Reality says that not everyone can be involved in every goal or objective of the parish program. Work may need to be divided up to be better accomplished. The work of the wardens, along with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, is to ensure the church committee does its work for the benefit of all.
- 3.2.9: When the parish church hall is used by an outside body for a one time event and alcohol is being consumed, the following requirements are necessary:
- a) A copy of the Serve Right License for the person who will be serving the alcohol.

- b) A copy of the temporary license to serve and sell alcohol which must be displayed by the bar area.

SECTION 4 – INCUMBENT / MINISTRY DEVELOPER

4.1 DUTIES OF THE INCUMBENT/MINISTRY DEVELOPER: Territory Policy 3.7 [see addendum]

4.2 INTERPRETATION OF THE INCUMBENT/MINISTRY DEVELOPER DUTIES

The Incumbent/Ministry Developer holds his/her position by license of the Bishop after consultation with the Bishop's personnel commission. This committee is made up of persons from the parish chosen by the Bishop from nominations given to him/her by the church committee.

The duties of the Incumbent/Ministry Developer are painted in broad strokes in the paragraphs below from the ordination service and the service celebrating a new ministry. You will note the strong emphasis on preaching, teaching, and giving leadership to worship.

The responsibility to administer the parish does not lie with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer alone as by canon and custom, specific responsibilities are handed to wardens and others. You may also wish to note that when there is no Incumbent/Ministry Developer the wardens are directly responsible for the growth, mission and service of the parish in consultation with the Bishop until such time as there may be appointed a priest-in-charge.

It is the Incumbent/Ministry Developer's responsibility to help create, and have and hold a vision for the parish which fits into the vision of the Territory. In consultation with the Bishop, he/she is to present the vision and call of our Lord Jesus Christ bringing his good news to the bad news of the world, and to create a worshipping community committed to the service of the world and one which heals and strengthens the ministry of every member of the fellowship of the baptized in the world.

The Incumbent/Ministry Developer is to give leadership to worship. By canon he/she is primarily responsible for music. He/she is to oversee the maintenance of sacramental ministries. The Incumbent/Ministry Developer oversees the training and licensing of lay ministers of word and sacrament, communion assistants, readers and intercessors.

As a teacher of the faith, the Incumbent/Ministry Developer will participate in and oversee the preparation for baptism, first communion, confirmation, and marriage, calling others to assist in this ministry.

As a teacher of the faith, the Incumbent/Ministry Developer will participate in and oversee the making and nurturing of new Christians and the growth in understanding and commitment of all the baptized, inviting and helping others to partake responsibly in this ministry.

He/she will participate in and oversee the pastoral care of parish members including the training of visitors for the sick, the shut-in, the grieving and those in crisis situations. The Incumbent/Ministry Developer takes his or her place in the governance of the local parish both as a member of the church committee and as resource person and spiritual director encouraging members of the committee to fulfil their ministries to the congregation and the world.

It is the responsibility of the Incumbent/Ministry Developer to participate in and to oversee the proclamation of the faith in preaching and the teaching of the parish to ensure every parish member can share their faith with others. It is his/her responsibility to create an ambience in which people feel their gifts are valued and there is freedom and encouragement to use them in the service of their Lord in the church and in the world.

Incumbent/Ministry Developer: I thank you for this symbol of God's holy word and I pledge to you that I will at all times, and to the best of my ability, apply myself to the diligent reading and study of Holy Scripture, to lend instruction to all who seek it and to preach the love and mercy of God in Jesus Christ.

Chair, Parish Council: On behalf of this congregation I present you with this copy of the canons of the Territory of the People as a symbol of your responsibility to administer the affairs of this parish. Be among us as one who is dedicated to the building up of this community and the stewardship of our resources.

Incumbent/Ministry Developer. I thank you for this symbol of the leadership that you entrust in me and I pledge to you that I will at all times, and to the best of my ability, administer the affairs of this parish with honesty and integrity and that I will strive to do so with wisdom, humility, discernment and good humor.

SECTION 5 - ORGANIZATION

5.1 ORGANIZING THE WORK OF WARDENS AND CHURCH COMMITTEES

How wardens and church committees organize themselves varies from place to place. If the mission of the church is to go forward, it needs to be mission centered rather than survival centered. The wardens and church committee should meet regularly once a month.

What will they do? Dr. Bud Phillips of the Centre for the Study of Church in Ministry suggests every congregation has seven major sub systems that need attention. These include

1. education
2. nurture;
3. socializing and hospitality (making people feel at home);
4. reparative, caring for those hurt or wounded;
5. maintenance and substance, keeping the fabric and finances strong;
6. outreach and evangelism, do we just look after our own or reach out to others;
7. creating a welcoming atmosphere for newcomers and those passing through.

In a small church one member of the committee would have an eye on one of these areas. In a larger parish sub committees could be created to be certain they are looked after, and to ensure no one is left out. In one large parish the Incumbent/Ministry Developer asks one warden to be responsible for the maintenance, finances, and stewardship; the other for parish program regarding education and outreach while he cares for worship and pastoral care. Each giving support to the committees working under their area of ministry. Some parishes have the church committee appoint the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, wardens, treasurer and building and grounds chair as a management committee acting as a steering committee for the church committee, and looking after the nuts and bolts of parish operations. The church committee focuses on creating program and policy.

Another approach would be for the church committee to lead the congregation in identifying what are the important ministries we need to be carrying out in order to be a vibrant Anglican Christian community within our city or town. Then organize the work of the church committee and wardens and Incumbent/Ministry Developer around those ministries.

The Episcopal church guide for congregational evaluation suggests five foci based on the promises made by a baptismal candidate. Those include:

1. worship
2. service
3. education
4. evangelism
5. pastoral care

These areas would make interesting portfolios for one or two church committee members as well as opening up the possibility for discovering those in the congregation who may be gifted for these aspects of mission.

If one or two church committee members were ready to seek others outside the church committee with an interest in one of the above areas of mission, parish momentum could thrust forward and church committee meetings become quite exciting. It would be a call not just to individuals, but to the parish to practice baptismal ministry. It could move a parish or congregation away from worrying about survival to getting on with the work they have been called to do.

It is clear to see that the concern of the church committee can be wider than caring for buildings and grounds, and worrying about money. It is clear that church committee and wardens have a ministry in co-operation with the Incumbent/Ministry Developer, to assist and encourage individuals and the parish to live out their baptismal vows in the daily context of the wider community.

Some church committees when they meet, divide the evening into two parts. First time is spent with the sub committees planning work. Then in the latter part of the meeting the committees share their work and co-ordinate their work with the rest. If some discipline is observed then the system can be quite creative.

If church committees and wardens delegate responsibility to others it is important to call to account those who take responsibility. Decisions should be made as to who will report to the committee and how often, and to whom they request time on the agenda to present their report. Committees should set out terms of reference and a statement of purpose and goals for the year ahead. When a committee is not heard from for a time other church committee members should call for a report.

It is important for wardens and church committees to assist the parish to set a vision and goals in order for there to be a sense of direction to monitor progress toward goals, or to suggest or hear ways to achieve goals set. There is much for church committees and wardens to do.

In a volunteer system, much frustration can be averted if committee chairs and other persons in positions of leadership have position descriptions outlining their responsibilities and stating what is expected of them. This allows the person, and those to whom they are responsible, to have some sense of accomplishment, know when they need help and the opportunity to review how things are going and where help or improvement might be needed.

One example of a position description follows for your reflection.

5.2 THE POLICY AND ORGANIZATIONAL WORKBOOK

One copy of the Territory Policy Manual is (or should be) be in every parish office for reference and should be kept up to date as new information is provided.

5.3 “DEFINITIONS”

A canon is a “law” agreed upon by synod beyond which officers of the church cannot go.

A policy is a statement as to how we will usually work together, a recording of the way we do work together in relation to an aspect of a Territory program. It is something to which we all aim to work toward.

Policy suggests some flexibility and bending though there is a pull to fulfil the policy request.

Canon is rule. There is no flexibility although there is sometimes “forgiveness”.

To violate a canon or to disregard a policy may be failure to discern the will of the spirit working in the diocesan family to work or act in a particular way, and a put down to all the other congregations in the diocese who created and approved both canon and policy.

SECTION 6 - MISCELLANEOUS

6.1 FINANCES: A Further Word

It is clear the wardens are responsible for the care of and maintenance of the property of the congregation and in particular to have custody of the funds of the congregation and to account for them regularly to church committee and to produce year end financial statements for the annual meeting and a budget for the coming year.

As wardens you may appoint a treasurer and delegate this responsibility but you cannot delegate your accountability. You are responsible to ensure all is done and done well.

You should therefore be familiar with the treasurer’s manual and know what reports are needed for the Territory and the government. Of most importance is the annual information return T3010 to Revenue Canada. If that report is not made your number as a registered charity may be revoked and the tax receipts you have issued be of no value. Borrow your treasurer’s manual and read it through with your treasurer so all are clear on what must be accomplished.

6.2 STATISTICS

Charged with keeping track of the real and personal property of the parish leads the wardens into taking responsibility that certain information is kept clearly and accurately. This statistical information should include:

1. An up to date record of the family names, names of adults and children who look to the parish as their spiritual centre. Names should be kept on the list even if participation is not in evidence unless the person requests the name be removed. Records should include whether persons are baptized, confirmed, and when last visited.
2. A vestry book to record the time, date and types of services held, including the number in attendance and the number of communicants (at a communion service). Attendance statistics are important in relation to the Incumbent/Ministry Developer's stipend and for following trends over time. The vestry book should be signed by the officiant and preacher after each service. If children are not in church an accurate count of children and teachers in the church school should be kept and added to the Sunday attendance.
3. Further to keeping statistics, each church should have:
  - a) baptismal register
  - b) confirmation register
  - c) parish marriage register
  - d) government marriage register
  - e) burial register
  - f) memorial book.
4. Each year the Territory office requires an annual statistical form to be completed and returned promptly - by March 15th - along with year end financial statements, budget for the coming year, and property and insurance values
5. Financial Review – At the annual vestry meeting, the wardens nominate a person capable of performing a financial review for the parish. Books should be reviewed annually. This need not be undertaken by a chartered accounting firm. It is important the person have financial competence and is not connected to the leadership circle of the parish. The books of ACW, Men's groups, etc., should also be reviewed by a person outside the group and their financial statements included in the annual parish report along with the financial statements for the parish.

A retired bank manager, member of an accounting firm, or a Revenue Canada employee, might volunteer to review the books. A small honorarium can sometimes sweeten the pot.

APPENDICES

APPENDIX A: RECORD RETENTION - A guide for storing Records

As a general rule, books, records and related vouchers should be retained for a period of six calendar years after the year in which the record was originated. This is a requirement of the Income Tax Act applicable to charitable organizations. However, Regulation 5800 makes an important exception to this rule. Duplicate donation receipts issued by a registered charity need be kept for only two years from the end of the calendar year in which the receipts are issued; however, receipts for donations of property to be held for a period of not less than ten years, are to be retained.

No books or records should be destroyed prior to the expiration of the retention period without written permission of the Minister of National Revenue which is obtained from your local District Taxation Office. The same clearance should be obtained from the provincial taxation authority. The following information will be required:

- A clear identification of books, records or other documents to be destroyed.
- The taxation years for which the request applies.
- Details of any special circumstances which would justify destruction of the books and records at an earlier time than that normally permitted.
- Any other pertinent information.

Permission will not likely be granted to destroy "permanent records" such as minutes, by-laws and general ledgers.

We recommend that after the six year retention period, the permanent business records be forwarded to the Territory Archivist for storage; Church registers of births, confirmations, marriages and deaths should be forwarded to the Territory Archives every ten years or upon completion of the register (whichever comes first) so they can be recorded in the Provincial Archive files. If requested, incomplete registers will be returned to the Church after posting is completed.

As part of your year-end activities, you may want to archive your important paperwork. Clearly label all boxes and files and store them in a secure location.

A well-thought-out and executed filing system ensures your important paper documents are readily available to support your tax return, provide information for a bank loan, or return a faulty product with the original receipt and warranty information.

The Chart below can be used as a handy reference...
